Key Market Trends: March 2021

- Sales activity continues to outpace last year in nearly all local markets. There were 450 sales in the CAAR region in March, a 21.6% surge from a year ago, which is an additional 80 sales. Fluvanna County had the largest influx of sales this month with 24 more sales than March of last year (+53.3%). Nelson County also had a busy March with 22 more sales than last year (+81.5%). Greene County was the only local market in the CAAR footprint to have fewer sales than a year ago (-24.1%).
- Strong growth in pending sales in March. Boom in townhome and condo market this month. There were 610 pending sales in the CAAR footprint at the end of March, a 36.5% surge from a year ago, which is an additional 163 pending sales. Pending sales of townhomes and condos more than quadrupled from last March to their highest level in more than five years.
- Sales prices continue to climb across the CAAR region. At $341,000, the regional median sales price was 8.0% higher than last March, which is a gain of $25,400. Charlottesville had the sharpest median sales price gain in the area, jumping up $106,000 from last March (+34.0%). Other local markets had strong price growth this month, including Nelson County (+30.4%), Greene County (+14.4%), and Louisa County (+10.5%).
- Low supply continues to be a major factor in the CAAR housing market. There were 540 active listings at the end of March in the region, a 61.4% plunge from last year, which is 858 fewer listings. There was a small uptick in new listings this month (+3.4%), but it was not enough to alleviate the overall inventory shortage.
